

4.27.20 Axis Release Notes

Enhancements

- Added the new email editor in the CRM for campaigns and individual messages.
Use Case: Now, the New Editor is available for use in CRM for use when creating and designing campaigns and sending individual messages.
- Added a new autosave logging feature to the new email editor, which will appear as a new tab in the template manager when an autosave is present.
Use Case: Within the new email editor, a new tab has been added called Autosaves. This tab will show the autosaved versions of the current message being edited. Users can click autosaves, navigate to the saved version they wish to revert to, and then select Open. This will load that saved version into the editor.

The screenshot displays a user interface titled "Get Started" with a "Create New" button in the top right corner. Below the title, there are four tabs: "Branded", "Themes", "Saved", and "AutoSaves". The "AutoSaves" tab is currently selected and underlined. It contains a list of five autosaved versions, each with a timestamp and a blue "Open" button to its right.
